2022 Kinross LOVA Outstanding Corporate Citizenship Winner Sam Parke-Faga

RMGC's Community/Site Relation Specialist Sam Parke-Faga is passionate about spreading the good news about mining and encouraging people to pursue careers in mining. Read more about her LOVA win on pages 2 and 3.

Published bi-weekly by Round Mountain Gold Corporation for its employees and the community of Round Mountain.

Sam Faga 2022 Outstanding Corporate Citizenship Winner

Sam Parke-Faga enjoys extending mining's outreach as far as she can go. From Super Builds in Las Vegas to local scholarships in RM Schools, Sam shares the good news of mining.

"Sam always carries a smile on her face and a hop to her step. She always asks how she can help before ever asking for help from others. It is amazing the sheer amount of things she completes each and every day. She tunes in on education, small business and local community members while balancing the large stakeholder organizations in Urban Nevada. Sam is professional and responsive in her work." ~Nomination from Sam's coworker

Sam Faga 2022 Outstanding Corporate Citizenship Winner

Samantha (Sam) Parke – Faga is Round Mountain's Community / Site Relations Specialist, which may seem like an absolute shoe-in to be nominated for this category; however, Sam goes way beyond the expectations for her role. Sam manages the employee functions for 850+ employees as well as sits on community boards and organizes events for both Round Mountain and Bald Mountain as a combined site effort (Kinross – Nevada). She has been in her role for a mere year and a half, but brings an enthusiasm and wealth of knowledge that you would expect from a seasoned professional.

The Core Values of Kinross are the values by which all sites operate. The four core values are Putting People First, Outstanding Corporate Citizenship, High Performance Culture, and Rigorous Financial Discipline. Each year, Kinross chooses three employees in each category from across all of their properties who exemplify the meaning of the values. The Outstanding Corporate Citizenship category celebrates employees who work to the highest ethical standards, are vigilant in protecting the environment, and help to make an outstanding difference in their communities.

RMGC's Sam Faga exemplifies Outstanding Corporate Citizenship through all the work she does not only in our community, but also our extended mining community around the state of Nevada. In Sam's 18 months as CSRS she has made a huge impact as the voice for Kinross and the voice for the mining industry. Here are some of her accomplishments:

- Organized a National Miner's Day lunch for the entire site so that employees could grab a meal on the way to work or on their way home
- Led the efforts for International Women's day hosting a dinner event with gifts for all women from the site and their families
- For two consecutive years has rallied the Round and Bald (2022) sites to attend an Aviators game in Las Vegas with their families
- Sits on boards and attends events for Austin, Tonopah, Old Round Mountain and Round Mountain.
- Regularly connects on a personal level with the residents of Old Round Mountain to ensure that mining activities are not disrupting their everyday life.
- Is the organizer for the J4NG (Jobs for Nevada's Graduates) events at site and within the Round Mountain community
- Partnership with Native groups
- STEM field trip to site
- Participated in career fairs in Tonopah and at Idaho State University
- Active participant with the McCaw School of Mines
- Active participant on the Super Build house project and playground build in Las Vegas
- Participated in the hiring and selection of new employees

through Nevada Careers (a program designed to help under-represented groups find meaningful work within the state)

- Champion of the site's LOVA process
- Produces and oversees content for the Valley View newsletter
- Built a strong relationship with the Duckwater Shoshone Tribe. She has helped with their summer youth program, helped with hoop houses, and has built a level of trust that has not been there before.

There's no better way to describe Sam's contributions to the Kinross family and communities than hearing from her coworkers.

Sam balances both internal and external stakeholders by attending crew meetings on a regular basis to update the employees on our program including great articles in the Valley View and site emails. She plans many of the company functions for celebrations of milestones or accomplishments. Sam travels the state to put in the face time and attend a wide variety of stakeholder engagements. It takes a high level of dedication to drive 3-4 hours one way for a meeting of an hour or less and this happens every week and often multiple times a week. She still finds time to be at site and a parent of her children!

She has vastly expanded the Kinross name in Southern Nevada through outreach partnering with UNLV, J4NG, McCaw School of Mines, NVMA, Nevada Careers and Habitat for Humanity. Kinross has been in prime time positive news in Las Vegas with many follow-up social media contacts as we partnered to build a home for a family in need. She continuously recruits volunteers to help with the many great programs.

Whether it's a live Las Vegas news interview or a community picnic or luncheon, Sam Parke-Faga is there representing Kinross Nevada. She continues to display outstanding corporate citizenship wherever she goes.

“We are looking forward to a good season. We have a great group of young men and they are improving every day. We have great support from our coaches and community and look forward to seeing everyone at the games!”

~RMHS Knights Head Coach Thad Wind

“Coach Larsen and I are excited for this season. The teams have potential to do great things. Every day these ladies show up, work hard and enjoy the game. Teams like this make me proud to be their coach.”
