Round Mountain Team Wins Kinross Award

On the Cover: Critical Risk Management Award

Congratulations to our Round Mountain team for winning Kinross’s 2021 Safety Performance awards!

J. Paul Rollinson, Kinross President & CEO, and Paul Tomory, Kinross Executive Vice-President and Chief Technical Officer, presented the awards to the teams at the 2022 Strategic Forum in Toronto at the start of May.

Round Mountain was awarded with the CTO ‘Critical Risk Management’ award, recognizing the site’s ownership and expansion of the program, their efforts to continuously improve, and for finding concrete steps to reduce risk. In 2021, Round Mountain empowered area managers to take ownership of their critical risks by implementing a site-wide awareness program. As a result, the site conducted 15 detailed critical risk reviews – the most of any site in 2021.

“The Safety Awards are an opportunity for global leadership to come together and focus on our first priorities, and to recognize those who are leading the pack for our Company. We look forward to continuing to prioritize safety and finding ways to continue improving our safety performance in the coming years.”

J. Paul Robinson
-Kinross President and CEO

Kinross-Nevada Received the Mackay Corporate Partner of the Year

Mackay School has chosen Kinross-Nevada to receive the Corporate Partner of the Year, for exceptional contributions to the Mackay School.

Kinross-Nevada has been supporting UNR’s Mackay School of Earth Sciences and Engineering through sponsorship of a professor, as a way to invest in the growth of the Department Mining Engineering and support the next generation of mining professionals.

RM Teachers Awarded

RM teachers Coley Coulon, left, and Ashley Switzer, right, were awarded the Horace Mann Award for First Year Excellence in Teaching from Nye County School District. NCSD Superintendent Warren Shillingburg was present on Wednesday, May 18 in an all-school assembly to present the awards to Ms. Coulon and Mrs. Switzer. In addition to their award, the teachers received gift cards and most importantly, crowns and scepters for being Round Mountain "royalty". This is the first time the award has ever been given to a teacher in the northern part of the district. And as it turns out, all three Horace Mann Awards were given to northern teachers, two in Round Mountain and one in Tonopah. Ms. Coulon is the math and history teacher to students in grades 6-8 at Round Mountain Middle School. She is well-liked by her students and is a positive influence at school. "It really was an incredible year. I've been so fortunate to work with such amazing and supportive staff.. Every day with students was an adventure. We all grew a lot this year. I'm so lucky to have been loved and accepted here," said Ms. Coulon. Mrs. Switzer is the first grade teacher at RMES and enjoyed her first year teaching. She said, "Well as a first year teacher, it's extremely shocking. My students and I learned together this year and were determined to accomplish our goals. It's not just my achievement, but theirs as well. As a teacher, it is a high compliment and pushes me to be even better every year. I am grateful to be a positive part of every student's learning journey." Congratulations to Ms. Coulon and Mrs. Switzer.

Rattlesnake Avoidance Training for Dogs

GET RATTLED

If you like to take your dog running, hiking, camping, or hunting, you and your pet are at risk of encountering Rattlesnakes! While you might have the sense to avoid one, your dogs natural curiosity puts them at much greater risk of a venomous bite which can cause excruciating pain, permanent physical damage, thousands of dollars in vet care, and even death!

Hosted by Town of Round Mountain
Wednesday, July 6th 9am – 3pm
Classes held at
White Park on Hadley Circle
Classes last about 1 hour. Reservations recommended.
We do accept walk-ins based on availability.

Get Rattled – Rattlesnake Avoidance Training for Dogs uses live, healthy rattlesnakes placed in a variety of scenarios designed to focus the dogs on specific aspects of the rattlesnake, thus teaching your dog to recognize and avoid the sight, sound and smell of rattlesnakes.

With decades of combined experience in a variety of training and handling methods, we can offer you and your dogs, the best quality training in a safe and secure environment.

"I honestly believe my dog Quoddy's life was saved tonight because of the rattle snake avoidance classes we took from you in Las Vegas. While hiking tonight, Quoddy and I were on a trail and he came within 12 inches of a massive rattle snake as we came around a corner. Quoddy's reaction was to jump away from the snake and he moved towards me. For a dog that chases anything that moves his reaction was a result of the training... Luckily for me, Quoddy will be looking at me at 6:30am wondering when we're going to the beach. I can't thank you enough!" ~ Jon Thornham

RMES Holds Olympics

On May 10, Round Mountain Elementary School held the Olympics. Mexico, Jamaica, Germany, France, and others raced two laps around the whole playground. Germany, U.S.A., and China threw Frisbees between two poles and Germany won. Football throw was my favorite. They had to throw it the farthest. It was America that threw it the farthest. It was good because it had a lot of countries and it was a celebration.
